

Editorial Message

It is a great pleasure and honour to be part of the great Editorial board, Universal Journal of Pharmaceutical Research (UJPR). Firstly, I send my regards to all members of the Editorial Board for the hard work, consistency and visions to achieve great and good goals.

UJPR, a recognized international and indexed Journal in many locations, been able to obtain impact factor within few year via our open channel of publishing updated information in the pharmaceutical sciences, also publishing multidisciplinary articles which encompasses both the basic and molecular studies / researches. It is very nice to see that, in previous years, in UJPR articles of different countries including Nigeria, Yemen, India, Cameroon, Egypt, China, Pakistan, Iran, Malaysia, Sudan, Bangladesh, Saudi Arabia, USA, West Indies, Iraq, Turkey and Nepal are published. Hope in coming years many other researchers will show their interest in publishing with UJPR.

UJPR has a bright future, by maintaining its quality standards it will achieve more success to be indexed in the Scopus and Thomson Reuters; I therefore encourage all authors to prepare and submit their manuscripts to our journal and also adhere strictly to the journal instructions to avoid any delay.

I wish us more success as UJPR climbs the ladder of great achievement with hard work, persistence, and focus.
